

Spanish festival! (Three kings)

Three kings is coming up and if you are going on holiday to Spain, I do not think you want to miss it (if you are not in school.) Monday 6th of January is when you can go to this festival. The three kings is a festival where three kings in three different carriages with others come and throw sweets and other prizes for the people who come to the place of the festival (in my case la Herradura where I used to live.) For example, you can get bouncy balls, space hoppers, massive bags of sweets and footballs. If you were going to Spain for Christmas IF I WERE YOU, I WOULD JOIN IN ON THAT! JOIN IN ON THAT!
